These are examples of collages.

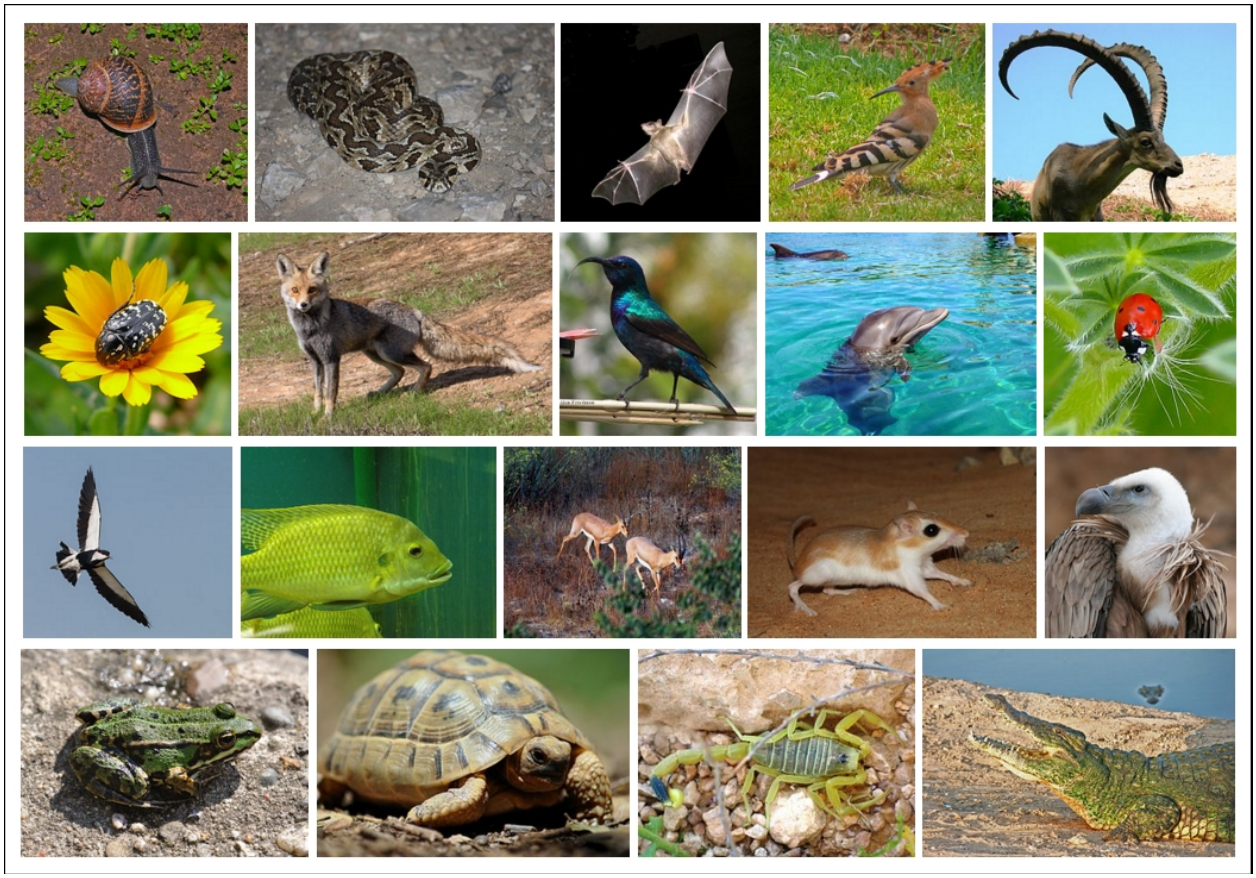
Notice these are cut into different sized squares and rectangles. One is overlapping some of the others.

This Photo by Unknown Author is licensed under CC BY-SA

These images are very symmetrical in size and shape. There are four smaller pictures overlapping the bigger ones.

This Photo by Unknown Author is licensed under CC BY-ND

These are different sizes and shapes, but organized neatly in rows.



This Photo by Unknown Author is licensed under CC BY-SA

This is a more traditional collage. Notice how the images are different sizes and shapes. They are glued down so that they overlap one another, but it is still neatly done.

This Photo by Unknown Author is licensed under CC BY-SA-NC

This collage was made using small pieces of different colored paper to make the image of a flamingo.

This Photo by Unknown Author is licensed under CC BY-NC

You are free to do what you want with your collage. You may do it using drawings, paper, photographs, magazine clippings, etc. These are the requirements:

1) Must be neat
2) Must fill an entire 8.5"x11" paper
3) Must accurately represent the things you have in your Nature Journal